What is Teacher Academy?

- Teacher Academy of Maryland is a state-approved career complete program designed to prepare students for future careers in the education profession.

What TAM can do for you...

- Students who successfully complete the Teacher Academy program have the potential to earn three college credits and be well prepared for a teacher preparation program.

Statewide Articulation Agreements

- Towson University; Bowie State University; Coppin State University; Frostburg State University; Hood College; Morgan State University; Salisbury University; St. Mary's College of Maryland; and Stevenson University.

In addition, local school systems have articulation agreements with their local community colleges for various numbers of credits into teacher education programs.

Scholarships Available

Towson University, Coppin State University, and St. Mary's College of Maryland offer a $500 scholarship per semester for TAM students who are declared education majors and meet the requirements stated by the institution. Financial aid is available to those who qualify at Stevenson University and Salisbury University.
